

100 GSM-style problems, each rewritten five ways and compared with the original. The measure is the first layer at which the two prompts' anchor-state clusters separate (forced k=8). Only the one-digit edit changes the answer: the model returns the old answer 0/100 times and its new answer at 67% accuracy (70% on the originals). It is never detected.